ACADEMIC PROGRAMS:

Advantage Program: Select courses are available to earn college credit via St. John's University.

Global Scholars: As part of the Ursuline Education Network (UEN), a designation is offered to seniors completing a curriculum with global focus and demonstrating a commitment to global citizenship, empathy, and advocacy/service. In their senior year, candidates present an independent, academic research project focused on a global issue of concern.

Science Research: A selective three-year sequence of additional science courses focusing on hypothesis development, application of the research process and work with a mentor from the scientific community. Culminates in a formal research paper and presentation.

Reading and Language Development: Qualified students receive academic support and strategies from learning specialists to complement classroom instruction and aid in testing.
